Accessible Resources

Individuals have financial and residential stability that promote access to resources.

Connected Individuals

Support Networks

Individuals have natural and community support systems that enhance their well-being.

Engagement

Individuals have the opportunity to donate time and resources to others and participate in groups in pursuit of common goals. Individuals are asked to participate and can contribute to activities and programs of their choice.

Connected Individuals are those of all ages and abilities who contribute to and are engaged in their communities as well as have access to local services.